

CHECK LIST

Evaluating prospective employers

- Do they have a strategic plan?
- How stable is the organization?
- Are any key physicians in the practice planning to retire soon?
- Talk to potential colleagues
- Is my spouse or significant other supportive of this move?
- Review the company website
- Look up employer and physician reviews
- Search the internet for additional information on the employer and physician leaders
- What hospitals are they affiliated with in the community?
- Look up compensation on Salary.com
- Review Medscape's physician compensation report (login required)
- Research the geographical area and market
- Evaluate physician-patient ratios
- Will they provide sufficient technological support?
- Is the employer willing to provide the administrative resources and marketing you require?
